

LOUISIANA TRUST
for HISTORIC PRESERVATION

January 2019

To whom it may concern,

Throughout the state of Louisiana, communities and local citizens are collaborating to help save historic sites which represent our state's diverse cultural heritage. By developing unique partnerships, the Louisiana Trust for Historic Preservation (LTHP) provides educational opportunities, advocacy programs, and development tools to increase efforts to save the places that are important to generations of Louisianans.

Kisatchie High School, 2019 Most Endangered Places

Each year LTHP hosts a two-day conference filled with engaging tours and informational sessions attracting nearly 200 attendees. LTHP also hosts two separate days of (1 in the spring, 1 in the fall) popular touring rambles to discover and learn about historic communities by opening doors to sites that may not usually be open to the public. Attendance to Rambles, continues to grow (over 350 participants between the two events in 2019). These and other developing programs are building a network of preservationists and community activists to help restore small towns and big cities across the state.

Planning for these events are now under way and your sponsorship support will take them to the next level. These events attract people from all corners of Louisiana and beyond while providing new exposure to you and your company.

Each event has multiple sponsorship levels available and are described in the following sponsorship summaries. Additionally, higher level memberships support our on-going initiatives such as providing technical assistance to preservation projects throughout all 64 parishes.

Please contact me with any related questions about these events, sponsorship, or membership benefits. I can be best reached at wprince@lthp.org or 225-930-0936. Thank you for your support!
